MESA Follow-up Phone Call 18: Participant Tracking

MESA investigators are interested in studying the risk of lung and heart disease in younger adults in a future study. We would like to contact your children or grandchildren in the future to see if they might want to join a study like this. Would you be willing to tell us the names and contact details for any living children or adult grandchildren that you have so that we could do this?

- Yes → Great. Thank you. Let's review your MESA contacts and then we'll go over them.
- No → No problem at all. We understand. Let's review your MESA contacts.
- Maybe → I understand that you want to think about it and/or contact them first. Would it be easier if I sent you something in the mail or called you back?

Also, we'd like to send your MESA contacts a brochure or newsletter to tell them about MESA and their role as your contact person in MESA. I'll ask you about each person individually.
